

Our Closed Loop System

Our customers entrust us to destroy their most sensitive materials because we've gone through painstaking effort to develop a system that ensures maximum protection at every step in the process:

Locked Bins – Our on-site receptacles are designed to minimize the possibility of tampering, discouraging internal and external personnel from even attempting to access your important documents.

Secure Vehicles – Our fleet consists of late model, well maintained vehicles protected by Babaco locks. Secure cargo bays and GPS tracking make sure your materials arrive at their destination as quickly as possible, and with the smallest possible opportunity for foul play.

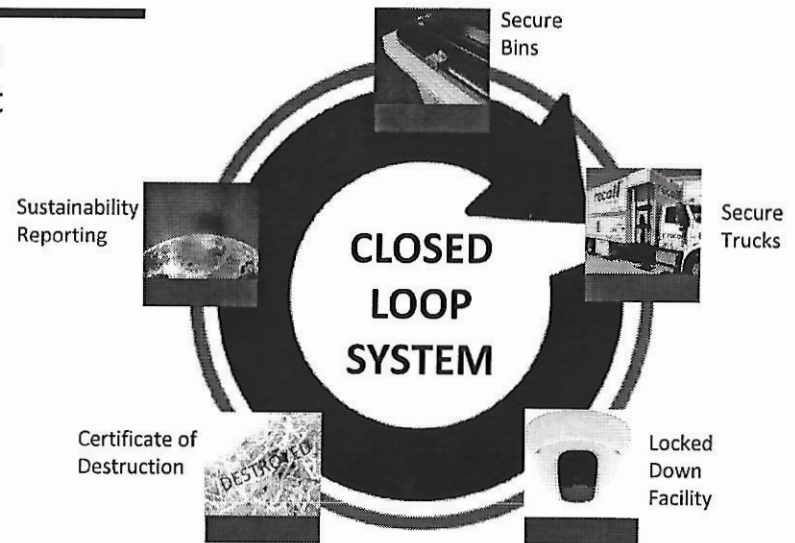

Protected Facilities – Secured by perimeter fencing, with closed circuit cameras inside and out, and entry systems that require magnetized cards, biometric identification or vascular scanning, you can be certain that only authorized personnel ever set foot in our facilities.

Direct Recycling – Since we bring your recyclable materials directly to their destination – pulp mills and other reclamation facilities – they're never in the hands of brokers or other third parties.

Certificates of Destruction – Once we've destroyed your materials, we give you full documentation as our assurance that it's gone and gone forever.

Standardized Procedures – Our tested and proven procedures for material handling at all phases of the process ensures that there are no missteps, no mistakes and no surprises – just the rigorous following of effective, reliable procedure from start to finish.

Thorough Training – Before any of Recall's personnel ever begin processing any of your materials, they have been trained in all aspects of the secure destruction process. You can be confident that you'll receive expert service from professionals who take their responsibility to you very seriously indeed.
